Privacy Policy

Your privacy matters.

Learn what information we collect, how we use it, and how we help protect it while supporting your recovery journey.

Last updated: October 2, 2026

1. Overview

Pulse is built to support your recovery while respecting your privacy. We collect only the information needed to provide our services, help you track your progress, and improve your experience. We never sell your personal information.

In short: Your recovery data belongs to you. We use it to provide Pulse and only share it when necessary or with your permission.

2. Information we collect

We collect a few categories of information to provide Pulse:

CATEGORY	EXAMPLES	PURPOSE
Account	Name, email address, encrypted password	Account access and authentication
Recovery data	Mood, pain, energy, activities, reflections, goals	Track your recovery and personalize your experience
Technical data	IP address, browser, device type, app version	Security, reliability, and troubleshooting

We only collect information that is relevant to providing Pulse. If a future feature requires additional permissions, we will always ask for your consent first.

3. Cookies and on-device storage

Pulse uses only the cookies and browser storage it needs to work. We do not use advertising or tracking cookies, and we do not ask for cookie consent because nothing on this list is optional tracking.

ITEM	WHAT IT DOES
Session cookie (accessToken)	Keeps you signed in
Security cookie (_csrf)	Protects your requests from forgery
Language cookie (NEXT_LOCALE)	Remembers your language
Sidebar cookie (sidebar_state)	Remembers whether the sidebar is open
Local storage drafts	Saves unsent posts and profile edits on your device so you don't lose them. Health details are never saved there, and drafts are cleared when you sign out
Install prompt (local storage)	Remembers that you dismissed the install Pulse prompt so it does not keep reappearing

You can clear these at any time in your browser settings. Signing out ends your session.

4. How we use your information

We use your information to:

- Provide Pulse - Display your check-ins, goals, progress, and recovery history.
- Personalize your experience - Generate insights and tailor features based on your recovery activity. To write your insights, your recent check-ins, including any notes you add, are sent to our AI providers. You can stop sending your notes at any time in Settings, under App Preferences.
- Keep the service secure - Protect accounts, detect suspicious activity, and maintain platform reliability.

- Improve Pulse - Understand how features are used so we can continue improving the product.

5. Sharing your information

We never sell your personal information. We only share it in limited situations:

- With you - You can view and manage your own information anytime.
- In the community forum - The community forum (posts, replies, and their authors' names and pictures) is visible only to signed-in Pulse users. With Anonymous Participation turned on, your name, username and picture are hidden from other users.
- With trusted service providers - We work with carefully selected providers who help us securely operate Pulse: cloud hosting (AWS), error monitoring (Sentry), AI providers that write your insights (Anthropic, Google and OpenAI), Google when you choose to sign in with Google, and OpenStreetMap (Nominatim) when you search for a location, which receives the text you type and your IP address.
- When required by law - We may disclose information if required by applicable laws or legal processes.

6. Keeping your information secure

Protecting your information is one of our priorities.

- Encryption - Information is protected during transmission and storage using industry-standard encryption.
- Access controls - Access to sensitive information is limited to authorized personnel when necessary.
- Account protection - We use secure authentication and monitoring to help protect your account.
- Continuous improvement - We regularly review and improve our security practices.

7. Your choices and rights

Depending on where you live, you may have rights regarding your personal information. We aim to give every user clear control over their data.

- Access - View and manage your personal information within your account.
- Update - Edit your profile and recovery information whenever you need.

- Delete - Request deletion of your account and associated personal information. Your posts are deleted with it. Replies you left on other people's posts stay, shown as "Deleted user" without your name or picture, but the text you wrote is kept as written.
- Questions - Contact us anytime if you have questions about your privacy.

8. Data retention

We keep your information only for as long as it is needed to provide Pulse, comply with legal obligations, and maintain the integrity of our services. When your account is deleted, your personal information is removed according to our data retention policies. Replies you left on other people's posts are the exception: they are kept as written, without your name or picture.

9. Children's privacy

Pulse is not intended for children under the minimum age required by applicable law. If you believe a child has created an account, please contact us and we will investigate and take appropriate action.

10. Updates to this policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. If we make significant changes, we will notify you through the app or by email when appropriate. The latest version will always be available on this page.